Special Master Christian J. Moran

Filed: September 6, 2023

Lawrence R. Cohan, Saltz Mongeluzzi & Bendesky, PA, for petitioner;
Jamica Marie Littles, United States Dep't of Justice, Washington, DC, for respondent.

RULING FINDING ENTITLEMENT TO COMPENSATION¹

Tiffany Huettl alleges that an influenza ("flu") vaccination caused her son, R.H., to develop chronic osteomyelitis and seeks compensation on his behalf. Pet., filed Jan. 19, 2023. The evidence preponderates in favor of entitlement.

Before receiving the flu vaccine, R.H. had asthma, atopic dermatitis, and bronchiolitis due to respiratory syncytial virus ("RSV"). Exhibit 2 at 121. R.H.'s medical history before the flu vaccine did not indicate any problems in his left lower extremities. Id.

On February 20, 2020, R.H. received the flu vaccine in his left thigh. Four days later, on February 24, 2020, R.H. started having left knee pain and swelling. See Exhibit 1 at 36. The swelling radiated up to the left thigh. Id. R.H. also developed a fever that was not responsive to Tylenol or ibuprofen. Id.

In accordance with Vaccine Rule 18(b), the parties have 14 days to identify and move to redact medical or other information, the disclosure of which would constitute an unwarranted invasion of privacy. Any changes will appear in the document posted on the website.

Health and Human Services (“DICP”) reviewed the medical documents and determined that R.H.’s chronic osteomyelitis was more likely than not caused by the flu vaccine. Resp’t’s Rep. at 11. The Secretary recognized that “petitioner has satisfied the statutory requirement that R.H.’s injury lasted for at least six months, or resulted in ‘inpatient hospitalization and surgical intervention’ as required by 42 U.S.C. § 300aa-11(c)(1)(D)(i),(iii).” Id.

Special masters may determine whether a petitioner is entitled to compensation based upon the record. A hearing is not required. 42 U.S.C. § 300aa-13; Vaccine Rule 8(d). Based upon a review of the record as a whole, the undersigned finds that Ms. Huettl has established that she, on behalf of R.H., is entitled to compensation for his injury.

Accordingly, Ms. Huettl, on behalf of R.H., is entitled to compensation for his injury. Ms. Huettl remains obligated to submit a status report regarding her demand by Friday, September 22, 2023. See order, issued Aug. 15, 2023.

Any questions may be directed to my law clerk, Debbie Chu, at (202) 357-6360.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
